

the 8th I think Shalom.

No! Nixon still lives & breathes somewhere out there – God help us all. It wasn't him, some-one else yet worse but that isn't even what I'm charged with, they'd like it to be though. If they could dig up someone to ask them the big question, maybe yes – so would you believe #160,000, for possession of a stolen camera in the meantime. I'm going to blow minds & post it yet and get out of this dungeon before too very long with a little untraceable aid from "o" EL PADRINO of Jefferson Parish. Incidentally, no walther's involved but Diane's very own little double-barreled 357 mag. derringer equipped with "split way holeies". Yeah! my pocket was "loaded" with the unexpected & is planning on making about 4 more returns before the game ends, at least 4. See! I don't play games.

I've got a good "paid for attorney" no sweat there & his name is not Scott either. Also, have a good shrink too – all in advance of latest deeds done & standing by for future ones, un-approvingly, but still there should need be, which from the way things look will become a definite fact.

Let us just say I blew my cool & can't re-gain it – and don't care to.

At least two good feet this venture & even the cuisine has improved since last visit.

Need nothing but good words as all other needs are being taken care of by friends in the free.

Write on! Write on!

Infinitely,
The "Knot Holden"
